ELECTRIC PLANT MATTER TABLED

Advocates of Proposition Unwilling to Risk a Vote on It Just Yet.

THE VETERANS GET MONEY

Unanimous Action on Conference Report—Increased Salary for Attorney.

The Common Council held an adjourned session last night, but disposed of nothing important save the appropriation of $2,000 to the Confederate veterans fund and the adoption of the ordinance fixing the salary of the city attorney at $5,000 per year and requiring him to devote his entire time to the business of the office. The action as to the veteran fund was in the form of adoption of the report of the Committee of Conference, which was agreed unanimously. There was but one vote against the increase in the salary of the attorney and this was that of a lawyer.

The expectation that the electric light and power plant ordinance would be called up attracted a large number of persons to the meeting, and though the matter necessarily came up, having been tabled by the body until this meeting, it was immediately sent to the table again, on motion of its advocates, opponents of the ordinance who desired to dispose of it then and there voting in the negative. With seven or eight absentees, including several friends of the project, it was not deemed advisable to keep in charge of the measure.

Session in Detail.

There were just twenty-seven members present when at 8:30 o'clock President Peters called the body to order. The roll-call was followed by a motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes, which was adopted. Mr. Mills called up the ordinance relative to the salary and duties of the City Attorney. He moved to separate the two propositions as to the salary of the City Attorney and the creation of the office of Assistant City Attorney, and offered a substitute ordinance, applying only to the City Attorney, whose salary was fixed at $5,000 per year. The amendment was adopted and the ordinance passed. Mr. D. M. White voted "no."

Mr. Mills thereupon offered another ordinance, creating the office of Assistant City Attorney, and fixing his salary at $1,500. This was referred to the Committee on Ordinances, Charter and Reform.

Mr. Mills offered an ordinance authorizing the superintendent of the water department to enter into contract with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad for a site for a storage-house for the settling basin supplies. This was adopted.

Extension of Avenue.

Mr. Pollard offered an ordinance to ratify the acquisition of land necessary for the extension of Monument Avenue from Allison Street to the Boulevard. A large number of ordinances reported from other committees were sent to the Ordinance or the Finance Committee.

Several propositions, unfavorably reported from committees, were laid before the Council, and the committee recommendations were confirmed by the rejection of these propositions. Embodied in this category were the ordinance extending the hours for the sale of liquor, and the resolution relative to the sale of the Old Market Hall to the Railroad Y. M. C. A., the city declining to sell.

Several ordinances relative to salaries of various city employees, reported from the Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, were referred to the Finance Committee.

The ordinance, requiring city employees to be qualified voters and to have paid all their taxes before being employed, was reconsidered. It was recently repealed and an effort made to strike out the provisions as to residence, but the City Attorney declared this provision invalid.

Councilman W. Fred Richardson made an effort to secure action under suspension of the rules upon an ordinance appropriating $500 for a granolithic floor for the vestibule of the auditorium, and a parliamentary skirmish ensued. President Peters had called Mr. Garber to the chair, and members endeavored to embarrass Mr. Garber by bombarding him with motions and parliamentary inquiries, causing no little fun, but Mr. Garber played the role of a lion and ruled as he wished, reversing himself when he chose. After the matter had been seriously taken up under motion to reconsider and then to suspend the rules, the body declined to vote the appropriation.

A communication from the Board of Aldermen embracing a resolution passed by that body thanking the residents of the city for their services at the recent Cry Street fire was laid before the Council, and the joint resolution concurred in. A joint resolution instructing the Auditor to pay salaries from January 1st until the new budget is adopted out of any funds not otherwise appropriated was also concurred in.

PLAN TO ERECT INDUSTRIAL HALL

Proposition Favorably Received at Meeting of Committees Held Last Night.

Joint Committee of the Retail Merchants' Association and the Travelers' Protective Association met last night to consider the advisability and feasibility of erecting an industrial hall, in which the merchants of the city might have space in which to exhibit their wares.

The committee of the Merchants' Association heard a committee from the T. P. A., who presented the subject and spoke of the advantages which would accrue to the merchants and the city if such a hall were established, but no definite action was taken last night. The matter was very favorably received, however, and it is likely that the movement will result successfully for its promoters. The matter was referred to the standing committee of the Retail Merchants' Association, and another meeting will be called in the near future to consider the subject further.

INDIAN BILL ROUGHLY HANDLED

Amendments Suggested by Special Committee Are All Rejected.

INDIANS CAN'T SELL LAND

In the House Rivers and Harbors Bill, Carrying $83,000,000, is Passed.

WASHINGTON, February 7.—The Indian appropriation bill received rough handling at the hands of the Senate today. The amendments of the committee, and especially those suggested by the special committee, which went to the Indian Territory last summer to investigate conditions there, were nearly all rejected on points of order.

But one contested amendment in the bill remained to be disposed of, that providing that the Court of Claims shall decide the right of the Colorado Utes to about two million acres of land which has been taken by the general government for a forest reserve.

RIVERS AND HARBORS

BILL CARRIES $83 MILLION

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 7.—The House today completed and passed the river and harbor appropriation bill, carrying more than $83,000,000, with sundry amendments, all of which were suggested by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Burton, of Ohio.

TO BUILD CANAL.

Stevens Says He Will Resign Otherwise.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 7.—The administration has been brought face to face with the alternative of rejecting all bids for the construction of the Panama Canal by contract or losing the services of Chief Engineer John F. Stevens. This is the reason for the delay of President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts, of the Canal Commission, in action on the Oliver bid. An effort has been made to get Mr. Stevens to change his mind, but he has continued obstinate and the indications are that the administration will accede to his request, and the construction will be continued by the government.

A pleasant reception, held last night in the parlors of Centenary Methodist Church, was attended by a large number of the members of the congregation, and the Philharmonic orchestra furnished music for the occasion, and refreshments were served. The affair was entirely informal, and the gathering proved to be most enjoyable. It is hoped that the church can arrange for a series of receptions of this character, to create a closer acquaintance among the members of the congregation.

UNIVERSITY BOYS PLAY AT ACADEMY

Brilliant Audience Greeted Students in Presentation of "The Visiting Girl."

MANY CATCHY NUMBERS

Production Regarded as the Best Club Has Ever Appeared in Here.

The college boys held full sway last night at the Academy of Music, when the University of Virginia students presented their musical comedy "The Visiting Girl." The audience was a splendid one in point of numbers and composed of the cream of Richmond society. The boxes and loges were all taken, the orchestra was three-fourths full, and the balcony and gallery were crowded. The production was a merry melange of music and mirth, very splendid with wit and abounding in catchy tunes. Both book and score reflect the greatest credit upon the authors, Messrs. Hull and Henshaw, and some of the musical numbers would have been creditable to many a professional organization.

The piece is in a prologue and two acts. The prologue takes place in Monticello and the two acts on the lawn at the University. The stage setting was extremely artistic, and the familiar sight of the rotunda in the background, which the Virginia boys turned on caused a spontaneous outburst of applause. The cast was admirably selected, and revealed latest and hitherto unsuspected theatrical talent on the part of each member.

R. H. Judson was Thomas Jefferson, and played the role with ease and dignity of bearing that were highly praiseworthy. J. M. Blackford was a created campy for any musical show on the road, and A. S. Jones as Flo, the visiting girl's maid, would make any cake-walker in town envious. W. S. Mudd as Orval Joy created much merriment by his clever impersonation of a typical college boy just entering college, and Messrs. Grosscup, Payne, Duvall and Sale and Bradford were breezy and clever as students.

J. T. Horner and L. R. Hampton as the visiting girl and the college widow made the hit of the evening, and it would be impossible to say whether the deficiencies were in the line they uttered and every gesture caused a roar of laughter from the audience.

The chorus, that is the feminine portion of it, would have put many a comic opera chorus in the background as far as looks and costumes go, though their figures were woefully deficient and inconsistent in many respects. These deficiencies were in no way attributable to the students, however, and served to make them all the more ridiculous. Three of them—Messrs. W. W. Crump, P. G. Pollard and P. P. Christian—were Richmond boys, but so skilful was their make-up that it was impossible to recognize them. They were splendidly drilled, and the stage manager deserves the highest commendation for the excellent manner in which the concerted numbers were staged and rendered.

The best of the musical numbers was "The Visiting Girl" sung by Mr. Duvall, who had decidedly the best voice in the cast; "Dear Old U. Va." and a topical song, "I'm So Amazed," sung by quartet composed of Messrs. Grosscup, Payne, Duvall and Sale. The whole production went with a refreshing vim and snap that made it the best attraction this organization has ever presented here.

Russell H. Conwell.

Dr. Conwell believes in the gospel of work. As Joseph H. Rogers, of the Philadelphia "Inquirer," says in Talent for February:

"In his lectures work is always harped upon. He believes that intelligently directed industry is what brings success, and he is a most convincing proof of it. It is not uncommon for him to work nineteen hours a day continuously with only a few minutes for meals. Considering that his constitution has been racked by wounds, his life is a notable industry. He simply lives on work. His lecture trips are really his leisure hours for work—if the expression is allowable. Every moment on the train is occupied by work. In four months 125,000 copies were sold. His motto is a campaign biography of Blaine in three weeks, and a life of his old-time friend, Bayard Taylor, in about the same time."

The Card Trick.

Sig. Spendrini went to call upon Signora Venturi and presented her with a card. The servant soon returned and said: "The signora is not at home." "Has she gone out?" "Yes, sir." "Will she show her my card?" "Of course. It was after receiving it that she said to my wife was out."—Lo Scaccapensieri.

ROBERT URBARTH DEAD.

Isabel Urbarth, N. Y., February 7.—Isabel Urbarth, a well-known actress, died tonight at 10:30 o'clock.

BOILER EXPLODES; KILLS THREE, INJURES SEVERAL

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., February 5.—By an explosion of the boilers on the steamer Parker, near this city, today, George Kelley, a board fireman, was killed, and Will D. Shiley and Bob Bass, deckhands, were blown into the water and are supposed to have been drowned. Captain Jim Thompson, in command of the boat, was severely injured, an also was Jesse Allison, the engineer, and his wife. The explosion is said to have been caused by over-pressure on the boilers, due to a race between the Parker and another boat.

Peculiarly Unfortunate.

"Damn that horse!" exclaimed Sallery, after the caller had gone. "I was just beginning to write an article when he came in and began to talk, and he made me lose my train of thought."

"That's too bad," said Sallery, who was hammering away on a typewriter machine, "but the next time, if you next train, you know, may not come along for a week."

FORD CUTS OFF WIFE AND CHILD

Will Admitted To Probate In Chancery Court of Richmond Yesterday—Contest Will Likely Be Made.

In his will, filed here, Bolling Wellford Ford, who killed himself in a hotel at Elizabeth City, N. C., recently, bequeathes his interest in the estate of his father, the late A. J. Ford, to his nephew, Charles Henson, son of Mrs. Mary Wellford Bennett, cutting off his wife and children. The will, which was sent to his brother-in-law, W. C. Bennett, of Columbia, S. C., is a holograph will, and was proved yesterday by Clerk Charles O. Saville, of the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond, who testified that it was in the handwriting of the decedent.

That there will be a contest over the will by the wife on behalf of her infant child is already assured, the contest being the question whether the interest in his father's estate is a contingent one, or whether it is a vested interest. While it may not be generally known, Mr. Ford a few years ago had recorded in the Chancery Court a deed securing a bond for $5,000 as a marriage settlement upon his wife, nee Ryan, in lieu of her dower rights in the estate of his father.

This deed, it would seem, would deprive the widow of any share of the estate, but if the court hold that the testator died possessed of a vested remainder in the estate, he could bequeath and devise this, and his bequest would hold good. The value of the property bequeathed or devised is estimated at about $50,000.

It was said yesterday Mrs. Ford has secured counsel and would contest the will, contending that the testator in his father's estate was contingent and passed nothing. In that event the only child of the marriage would be entitled to a share of the estate, if not all of it.

Mr. Ford had separated from his wife, and only last Monday an indictment against him for non-support, by a grand jury of the Justices Court, was quashed by that court, he having died.

Mr. Robert H. Talbot, of this city, is trustee of the Ford estate, the record of which are in the custody of the Chancery Court.

JUDGE PARKER ON THE SOUTH

Says President Had Right to Discharge Negro Soldiers at Brownsville.

NEW YORK, February 7.—The Maryland Society of New York held its ninth annual banquet at Sherry's to-night. Among the 250 guests present were Thomas Pell, president of St. John's College, Annapolis, and ex-Judge Alton B. Parker.

Referring to the Brownsville affair, Judge Parker in response to a toast, said he believed the President had the right to discharge the negroes, and was justified in doing that power. He condemned the interference of the legislature with the action of the government, and attributed its action in the matter to political motives.

A Woman Is Old.

When she expects deference. When she forgets that smiles are more potent than frowns. When she becomes slowly and untidy in dress. When she continually looks for trouble. When she prefers being "frank" to being "polite."

When she allows her nerves to run away with her and her tongue to proclaim the fact. When she prefers the easy chair and the bedside to any form of wholesome sport. When she looks upon the harmless good times of the young people with envy instead of sympathy.—Exchange.

Polite.

REAR MEMORIAL TO MR. SPENCER

Unique Spontaneous Tribute by Employees of the Southern Railway.

EVERY MAN IS TO CONTRIBUTE

Autographs in the Corner-Stone. New Station for Williamsburg—Personal.

The Southern railway has sent out a circular letter announcing the plans for the erection of a memorial to the late Samuel Spencer, president of the system, who lost his life in a collision on Thanksgiving Day. A general committee has been formed consisting of representatives of all the various classes of employees of the road, and a financial plan has been promulgated which will not only provide sufficient funds to rear the monument, but by means of which the autograph of every employee of the road will be collected and these will be deposited in the corner-stone of the monument. The treasurer of the road, Mr. H. C. Ansley will serve as treasurer of the committee.

The month of March has been selected as the most appropriate time for the collection of this fund, inasmuch as Mr. Spencer was born in March. The monument will be reared in front of the terminal station at Atlanta for the reason that Mr. Spencer was a native of that city, of which that city is the capital and a central point.

All employees receiving from $1 to $100 per month will contribute one cent of each dollar earned during the month, those receiving from $101 up to $500 contributing 2 cents of each dollar earned; those receiving from $501 to $1,000 per month will contribute 3 cents and so on in the same proportion. The committee in charge consists of the men from the departments and includes the following Virginians and Washingtonians: Freight Claim Agent J. W. Hooper, Washington; Passenger Traffic Agent, S. S. Brown, Washington; Special Agents department, J. W. Connelly, Washington; Right of Way Agent C. J. Shelverton, Lynchburg; Telegraph and Timber department, C. A. Shattuck, Staunton; Telegraph Operators, C. G. Whitworth, Boy Air Civil Engineering department, Thomas Bernard, Danville; Bridge and Building department, Bernard Herman, Washington; Stationkeepers, W. M. Netherland, Washington; Land and Industrial department, H. E. Waernicke, Washington; Auditing department, F. B. Clements, Washington; Law department, Daniel Kelly, Washington; General Agents, J. S. The Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has let a contract to John T. Wilson of this city for the construction of a new and modern railroad passenger and freight depot at Williamsburg, Va. The building is to be of brick with slate roof and will afford ample capacity for the business of the city. The cost of the new station will slightly exceed $15,000. Work is to be commenced without delay.

Comptroller A. H. Plant reports the earnings of the Southern railway system for the fourth week of January this year as $143,490, compared with $133,439 for the corresponding week last year, a slight decrease.

Captain E. C. Cohen for years a passenger conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line from Richmond to Florence, Va., has been made soliciting passenger agent for the Charleston division with headquarters at Charleston, S. C. His new position will necessitate his removal from this city which is a source of regret to his friends.

President George W. Stevens of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad went to Washington, D. C., yesterday on a brief business trip.

COUNTERFEIT DOLLAR.

It Was Found in Hands of Innocent Young Man.

United States Commissioner Joseph P. Brady yesterday heard the case of a young man charged with passing counterfeit money, on a warrant sworn out by Ferdinand Balkmann.

It appeared that Balkmann applied to Crowell to change for him a five-dollar bill. Crowell, who was an accommodating young fellow, put himself to a good deal of trouble to change the bill for Balkmann, and gave in exchange for the five-dollar counterfeit silver dollar, or what purported to be a silver dollar.

Balkmann seemed to think Crowell had put a job on him and had the young man arrested. The evidence showed very plainly that while there was a counterfeit dollar in the change that Crowell gave to Balkmann, it was not passed with intent to deceive and to defraud, and that the young man was innocent of any evil intent. The case was dismissed, but the counterfeit dollar was confiscated.

Mr. Robert H. Talbot, the assistant district attorney, represented the government in the case before the commissioner.

BOTH FINED.

Young White Men Charged with Disorderly Conduct.

W. T. Cordley and Allie Wright, two young white men, were each fined $10 in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of creating a disturbance Wednesday night.

Wright was put under $500 security for six months.

During the trial of the case Eddie Smith, a white boy, fourteen years of age, was called to the stand to tell what he knew of the trouble between Cordley and Wright. Scoggs said that C. D. Hutzler, and that it was his duty to collect the money out of electrical plants.

Justice Crutcheid said that there was no law bearing on the fact that young boys were taken by business into disorderly places.

Knights of Pythias.

Myrtle Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held its regular meeting last evening in Smithfield Hall, a number of members of other orders being invited. Mr. George Bryant, counsel for the Virginia Endowment Bank of the order, was the principal speaker of the evening, his address having largely to do with the insurance affairs of the order.

Damon Lodge, No. 7, Knights of Pythias, will meet this evening at Marshall Hall, Twenty-fifth and Broad Streets. It is expected that "Grand Vice-Chancellor" Dickenson will attend, and a smoker will follow the formal exercises.

Dr. Currell's Lecture To-Night.
